The Ultimate Effect: Extreme Alter Ego The Ultimate Effect: Extreme Alter Ego is the debut extended play (EP) by American alternative rock band Relient K. It was released on March 13, 2005 by Good Shepherd Records. All songs were written and produced by Matt Thiessen and Matt Hoopes, except for "Dirt Devil" which was co-written by Taylor Rhodes and Hoopes. The EP serves as a preview to their subsequent self-titled album. The first pressing of the EP contained a hidden track titled "Unicorns." It was only made available on the iTunes Store on May 1, 2005. Critical reception The EP received positive reviews from critics. Ryan Reed of AbsolutePunk gave it an 8 out of 10, saying that "As a whole, the EP is a very strong effort. People who already like the band's music, and maybe even some who don't, will find it very agreeable" and called "I Think That I Might Just, Fall in Love" their "best song". Spencer Bright of The Wild Honey Pie gave the EP an 8 out of 10, saying that the EP "is a brief look into what's to come with Relient K, and it shows that they are poised to become an important part of the alternative rock scene." Michael Menachem of About.com gave the EP 4 out of 5 stars, stating that the EP "is very much like Relient K's debut EP, but is much more eccentric."
